Apprenticeships Presentation

15/12/23

A video of presentation and the PDF will be available in the Aspirations section of the school website
(Information for all students section)

What are apprenticeships?

- They are the oldest type of training.
- It's a job where you also gain a qualification.
- You spend most of your time working and learning on the job, and about 20% of your time in college/university/training centres.
- You get paid.
- You will leave with money, a qualification and lots of experience...
- However, often people continue to work at the place where they do their apprenticeship anyway!
- They are best known for being used in 'trades' but you can do apprenticeships in lots of industries and at lots of levels.

Why do you want to do an apprenticeship?

- I don't like the idea of university.
- I don't really know what I want to do.
- They're an easier option.
- I want to get paid.
- I don't want student debt.

Why do you want to do an apprenticeship?

- I have a definite career in mind.
- I am really driven to achieve my goals.
- I am prepared to handle rejection.
- I am willing to work much harder than my peers, and I'm happy to grow up much more quickly than them!

Is it worth deferring UCAS for a year?

- You'll still have a great application if you do decide to go to Uni?
- You have more thinking and searching time.
- You're less likely to make a rushed choice.
- UCAS applications are very similar to general job/apprenticeship applications.

A bit of jargon busting....

| Name | Level | Equivalent educational level |
|--------------|---------------|--|
| Intermediate | 2 | 5 GCSE passes at grade A* – C or 9 – 4 |
| Advanced | 3 | 2 A level passes/Level 3 Diploma/ International Baccalaureate |
| Higher | 4, 5, 6 and 7 | Foundation degree and above |
| Degree | 6 and 7 | Bachelor's or master's degree |

Sometimes it is possible to find your own employer! You can find an employer by doing the following:

- Ask friends and family if they know anybody who would take an apprentice on.
- Search for companies on the internet (including sites like indeed) and around York (big and small) whether they are looking for apprentices or not.
- Email, call, visit employers and ask if they have considered taking on an apprentice.

When you get in touch, use the following 3 questions:

- 1) Could I do an apprenticeship with you?
- 2) If not, could I work/have work experience with you?
- 3) Do you know anybody who might be able to help?

To whom it may concern,

My name is..., and I am a Year 12/13 student at Huntington School in York. I am currently studying a range of Level 3 qualifications including...

In the future, I am interested in working in the _____ industry and would be keen to secure an apprenticeship or entry level role in this area. Although I enjoy academic study, I find I am at my best when in a hands on, working environment.

In addition to my studies at Huntington, I.....(what else do you do that relates to this sort of job)

From my research I understand that you are (say something nice about them to show you have done some research – just look on their website/social media), so I would love the opportunity to work with your company.

I appreciate that roles within your organisation will be highly competitive, so if you are unable to offer me an apprenticeship/employment currently, would you be able to offer me some work experience or even suggest another industry contact that may be able to help me gain more experience in this sector?

Thank you for taking the time to read this email. I have attached a CV, and would be grateful if you could keep this on file and contact me if any opportunities become available. I do hope to hear from you, but if you are unable to help on this occasion, I wish you all the very best for the future.

Kind Regards

Be prepared:

- Make sure you have an up to date CV to show potential employers.
- Try to get some work experience (and include this on your CV).
- If you need some help with your CV, ask Mr Daniel.

If you find an employer who will take you on:

- If they know about apprenticeships, the employer will set you up and help you apply for the apprenticeship.
- If they don't know anything about them, you can contact the York Apprenticeships Hub for help at york.apprenticeships@york.gov.uk or you can contact Mr Daniel for help at s.daniel@huntington-ed.org.uk

Gap Years:

You can use a Gap Year to give yourself some thinking time, gain work experience, apply for apprenticeships or use it to gain some life experience.

If you are planning to work (part time or full time) in your gap year while your thinking about your next major step, get a job/volunteering that is relevant to your future plans (or possible future plans).

If you are interested in law, work for a law firm; if you're interested in hospitality and events; work in a restaurant etc.

Gap Years:

You can use a Gap Year to give yourself some thinking time, gain work experience, apply for apprenticeships or use it to gain some life experience.

If you are thinking about a significant Gap Year experience (i.e. a year working/volunteering aboard), the links below could be a good starting point:

General Application advice (jobs or apprenticeships):

- Read the job description.
- Make sure that you have evidenced that you have all the skills/attributes and experience required in the job description.
- Research the company and include evidence of this in your application!
- Don't forget the basics – spelling, grammar and punctuation!
- Don't just apply to one place; you are going to need to apply to lots of employers!

Remember, you don't need to have a specific career in mind if you are going to university (although it can certainly help).

However, if you are planning to take a job or apprenticeship-based route, you really do need a career in mind before you apply!
