Construction York is a new initiative in the city that aims to provide opportunities for people interested in working in construction!

There are already a number of opportunities on the website (although many of these will be more suited to adults already working in the field). However, you can use the 'Contact Us' feature to get in touch and let them know you're interested in construction!

So, whether you're a Year 10 student wanting work experience in construction, a Year 11 student looking for an employer to do an apprenticeship with, or a sixth former looking for work or other enrichment opportunities, get in touch and let them know—they might be able to help!

Simply go to 'Contact Us,' and when it asks for your description, click 'Other' and provide more information about yourself and your situation. You can access the website here:

Careers Tour 2024-25

Dear Parents & Guardians,

You may be aware that we recently visited your child's school as part of our BBC Bitesize Careers Tour - we really hope they enjoyed the session. The Bitesize Careers Tour aims to visit 125,000 secondary school students across the UK in a bid to inspire young people about their future job prospects and forms part of a wider remit of the BBC to inform, educate and entertain.

As part of the event, your child will have been introduced to three panellists from a variety of job sectors in your local area, which has hopefully sparked their imagination with regards to what might be achievable for them in the future. In addition, one of our well-known BBC presenters will have led the session and offered their own input into their career journey. Please do ask your child about the event and whether or not they managed to catch our infamous rugby ball!

How can Bitesize Careers help?

Schools are often a starting point for your child to think about their future, but BBC Bitesize is also here for them every step of the way. You may be familiar with the wide range of educational content on offer via BBC Bitesize, but there's also a huge amount of content available to them with regards to careers. Please do explore our site when you get a moment, as it might help spark a conversation with your child about their future career. It's never too early to start thinking about this!

Please follow the QR code below to visit BBC Bitesize Careers - and a huge thanks to your child's school for facilitating our event.

BBC Bitesize Careers:
Here for you,
every step of the way.
